Victor Talbots
reinvents luxury for men.

Celebrating its 30th year in business, Victor Talbots carries such European menswear labels as Brioni, Loro Piana, and Luigi Borelli. The company imports most of its high-end merchandise from Italy, where it also works with artisanal suppliers.

"Whenever you walk into our store, you're looking at fashion from Europe, so we're always two or three years ahead of the American market," says owner Victor Scognamiglio.

The store also offers on-site tailoring and a lifetime guarantee on alterations. "The tailors are who bring the merchandise to life," he explains.
